JULES ESICK

JULES ESICK was raised by his mom and sister in southern germany. He discovered his passion for photography at a young age, by always playing around with his grandpas 35mm camera.

As a young adult he moved to Berlin to study photography. Shortly after starting his studies, he switched to assisting, where he learned everything he knows today and developed his own personal style. This helped him in becoming the professional photographer that he is today.

Whether it's a portrait, a well composed shot or a snapshot, his pictures are always purely authentic. Natural light, true colors and an authentic look define his style.
